

15,000 ITALIANS FACE MASS SLAUGHTER

TWO ACCUSED OF BREAKING INTO SCHOOL

Dixon High School Burglarized in the Night

Harry Miller and Lloyd Moore of this city are under arrest today, charged in warrants, sworn to by the Dixon Board of Education, with burglarizing the Dixon high school building last night, considerable damage to the building being reported.

It is charged they gained access to the building by breaking a glass in one of the doors at the south entrance of the school; that they took several tools from a desk in the manual training department; and were frustrated in their attempt to rob the safe in the school office when a tear gas bomb, placed in the safe, exploded when they knocked the combination off and drove them from the building.

Both Carried Tools

The two were arrested at 2 o'clock this morning by Merchant Police Officer McIntyre on Hennepin avenue between First and Second streets. Both carried tools, the officer said. A checkup of the tools at the school department disclosed two flat files, a pair of pliers, a crescent wrench and a chisel missing and tools of the same type were found in the possession of the pair when arrested. During the investigation at the police station this morning, Miller told police that the tools were the property of his father, but when the parent was brought to the station he denied ownership of the articles.

Tavern Window Broken

Officer McIntyre answered a call at 1:45 this morning when it was reported that an window had been crashed in the rear of a building on the west side of Hennepin avenue between First and Second streets. On the way there he met Moore and Miller and after searching them, took them to the police station where they were left in the custody of Patrolman Clarence Seagren while Officer McIntyre continued his investigation. He found that a window in the rear of the Wilhelm tavern had been shattered and the proprietor was notified. When Wilhelm came to his place of business, he found that nothing had been taken from the building.

When the janitors at the high school went to the building this morning they discovered the robbery and immediately notified the police who started their investigation. Superintendent A. H. Lancaster and Manual Training Instructor Erman Miller were summoned to the police station and identified the tools which had been taken from the high school during the night.

Relative of Dixon People is Called

Word has been received by Dixon relatives of the death Friday morning of Mrs. G. L. Schryver at her home in Des Moines, Ia. Mrs. Schryver is survived by one sister, Mrs. Thomas Henry, with whom she made her home, and was a sister of Mrs. H. Raffensberger, Rev. W. A. Lipe, Rev. L. T. Lipe of Dixon, and Mrs. L. T. Hepley of Sterling, all of whom have preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 P. M. from the late home with burial in Des Moines, Iowa.

Self-Inflicted Death Erases

Second of Suspected Kidnapers

Utica, N. Y., April 3.—(AP)—Self-inflicted death erased from the books of department of justice agents today the second of six suspects in the 1933 kidnaping of John J. O'Connell.

Francis Leo Oley, 29, was found strangled to death last night in his cell in the Oneida county jail, a rope improvised from a bed sheet and tightly about his neck.

Christopher Miller, Hoboken, N. J., held as a material witness in the case, hanged himself with his

Wrong House

Scranton, Pa., April 3.—(AP)—Two landlords agreed today that the Home Owners Loan Corporation did a good repair job on a house—but said it was the wrong house.

They said they believed that the omission of the word "rear" from the address, 134 Maple street, Peckville, caused the error.

A contractor appeared at the home tenanted by John Wilding and re-papered the downstairs rooms, re-decorated the bathroom and repaired a chimney.

The owners, Dr. Eugene Simpson and Walter Bloes, said they learned that the repairs—worth $153—were intended for a house in the rear of the one they owned and that the renovations were authorized by the Philadelphia reconditioning office of the Home Owners Loan Corporation.

CAMPBELL URGES MOTORCYCLE FOR DIXON OFFICERS

Says Enforcement of Traffic Laws Needs New Equipment

Commissioner George Campbell called the attention of the city council last evening to the fact that one death has occurred in Dixon during the past two weeks. But because of careless driving, another victim is in the hospital in a critical condition suffering from injuries sustained in being struck by an automobile, and told of observing numerous violations of the traffic ordinances daily at the intersection of Galena avenue and Fir street.

The practice of cutting corners he stated was the principal offense at that corner and that it was a most dangerous practice. The commissioner stated that he was not criticizing any department, but desired to call to the attention of the members of the council a practice which is not only very dangerous but is likely to increase the death and accident toll in Dixon.

Commissioner Cal G. Tyler of the department of public health and safety replied to Commissioner Campbell's suggestion, stating that the police department planned to mark the street intersections in the business district as soon as the streets were in condition to permit the application of the zone paint. With the marking completed, he added, the ordinance relating to cutting corners as well as other violations will be rigidly enforced.

Richard Redfern is on Honor Roll

(Telegraph Special Service)

Champaign, April 3.—Richard K. Redfern, 518 Peoria avenue, Dixon, is one of the 34 students whose name appears on the 1936-37 honor list of the University of Illinois school of journalism. It was learned here today. The list consists of juniors and seniors in the school who have distinguished themselves in two years of pre-journalism study or in the work of the first year in the school. Special study courses are arranged for this selected group of superior students, according to L. W. Murphy, director of the university's journalism school. Under the regulations these students are permitted to take more than the usual number of hours work each semester, and may also take individual study program under faculty supervision. To retain membership in the honor list they must maintain an average of 4.0 (B) or higher, out of a possible 5.0.

NEXT WEEK'S WEATHER

Old superstitions usually have a basis of fact. Those who gain their knowledge exclusively from books sometimes scoff at the superstition of planting by the light and dark of the moon, but gardeners and farmers do not willingly get up out of their warm beds to go out at one in the morning to plant their fields unless they think some great good will accrue to them by so doing.

Here is the superstition: If we want plants to do well in the leaf and flower we must plant in the light of the moon, but if we want them to do well in the root and parts below the ground, we must plant in the dark of the moon. Now moonlight is only reflected sunshine, and as such of course, can have little effect on plants. There must be something else, and there is, the weather.

When we can see the full moon in spring, the weather must be clear. And when it is clear, it is usually also dry and cold. Such a night is thought to be the proper time for planting corn, peas, beans. Dixon during the past two weeks. reached without "recourse to costly strikes and lockouts."

John L. Lewis, union president, said, "both sides yielded on certain points, and there was a spirit of mutual compromise and an effort to compose the differences in the industry without a strike."

Lewis, O'Neill Pleased

In behalf of the operators, Charles O'Neill, of New York, said he joined Lewis "in expressing pleasure at the outcome of the negotiations."

Originally the miners asked a 15 per cent pay increase, a cut in the work week from 35 to 30 hours, two weeks' vacation with pay and a guarantee of 200 days of work a year.

This is what they got: A 50 cents a day increase for inside labor paid by the day; 70 cents increase for loading machine operators; 10 per cent for yardage and deadwork (taking out slate and rock), etc., and 9 cents a ton for those paid by the ton for coal mined by machine.

Under the new agreement the basic daily pay in the north will be $6, as against the former $5.50. Those paid by the day, with a few exceptions, also are to get time and a half for overtime.

CASH REGISTERS JINGLE

Centralia, Ill., April 3.—(AP)—Cash registers in the southern Illinois coal fields jingled a tune of Sunday chicken dinners and spring finery today.

Merchants throughout Little Egypt reported a brisk Saturday trade as the hoarded dollars of the coal diggers, cached away for weeks in anticipation of a strike, went flying back into trade chan-

THE WEATHER BOX

What is the bright planet near Antares in the morning sky? Mrs. W. L.

This is the planet Mars, shining near the star Antares. Mars attracts attention by his red color.

You said somewhere that the western plains are drying up at the rate of 0.75 inch every ten years. Where do you get your information? G. E. M.

The falling levels of water in wells, springs and streams, and the advance of arid conditions over fertile lands indicate that the soil moisture of the western plains is declining 0.75 inch per decade. This may be due to the widespread destruction of natural cover of the soil.

When the new moon lies on its back, does that indicate rain? And when it stands up straight, does that mean it is going to be dry? D. D. F.

This is a superstition. It comes from the fact that in spring, when rains are apt to be heavy, the moon naturally lies on its back, while in the fall, when rains are apt to be dry, the astronomical forces that hold the moon in its orbit about the earth cause it to stand up straight. Weather is made by the moon, but by the moon's motion, not its position in the sky.

Hotel patrons said 18 Cardinals participated.

Mike Gonzales, veteran coach of the St. Louis team, stepped in and stopped the fight after Kucipietz suffered a blacked eye and Miley was cut on the head. Spectators said Miley was attacked with a spiked baseball shoe.

Whether official disciplinary action was planned was not announced.

In New York, National league President Ford Frick said that, since the fight did not occur on the playing field, there was no automatic procedure by which he would receive an official report.

TRAPPED BY LOYAL SPANISH FORCES

Two Bitter Fights in Progress Today in Revolution

BULLETIN

Madrid, April 3.—(AP)—Fifteen thousand insurgent soldiers, described in government reports as mostly Italian, were reported facing today possibly the greatest mass slaughter of the Spanish civil war in a military trap on the Cordoba front.

St. Jean de Luz, France, April 3.—(AP)—Insurgent warships began shelling towns along Spain's northern coast, frontier advances reported today, to prepare a way for fresh attacks on Bilbao from the east.

The battleship Espana and cruiser Velasco, assisted by squadrons of armed trawlers, poured shells into villages around Lekeitio as insurgent infantrymen sought to march on the Basque capital from the Ondarroa district.

Diplomatic reports said insurgent Gen. Emilio Mola had concentrated a large number of planes near Vitoria, south of Bilbao, to aid the attack.

TWO BITTER BATTLES

By The Associated Press

Two of the bitterest, bloodiest and most important battles of the Spanish civil war raged on widely-separated fronts today.

In the northern sector near Bilbao, the Spanish government rushed mobilization of all available fighting men to repel a big insurgent advance and sent its militiamen up a 4,600-foot mountain peak to block one segment of the assault.

Far to the south in Cordoba province, opposing armies still were locked in a furious struggle for the possession of a rich mining country but here, the insurgents were on the defensive.

The success or failure of the insurgent drive in northern Spain was construed in many quarters as likely to have a decisive effect on the future of insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco, particularly in view of recent losses in the Guadalaajara sector northeast of Madrid.

Launch Double Attack

In the Cordoba sector, government troops launched a double attack designed to trap 15,000 Spanish and Italian insurgents.

Cordoba, about 150 miles south of Madrid, is an important supply base for the insurgent forces. Insurgents were reported to have retreated more than 15 miles after an unsuccessful siege of Pozoblanco.

Northern supporters of the Valencia government also started a new campaign against Oviedo, long besieged provincial capital in the Asturias sector, heavily shelling insurgent positions in the city.

Defending government troops near Bilbao fought their way to the top of La Cruz (The Cross), a 4,600-foot peak in the Cantabrian mountains which the insurgents must take before starting a downhill advance to Bilbao.

Meanwhile, in Havana, the Cuban government announced it would cooperate with Mexico in seeking some means to end the eight-month long, bloody conflict.

Georgia Chain Gang Convicts Returned To Work Escapes Again

Canton, Ga., April 3.—(AP)—S. J. "Slim" Scarborough, Georgia lifer who was returned to the Cherokee county chain gang Thursday after his third escape in 12 years, led eight other convicts in a successful break for freedom today.

Jake Haney, son of Warden Jay Haney, reported Scarborough and his companions sawed bars from a window in the camp sleeping quarters and fled on foot shortly after midnight.

Scarborough was sentenced in 1925 for the murder of W. C. Wright, superintendent of Putnam county schools, by three hitchhikers on their way from Tampa, Fla., to Illinois.

Scarborough turned state's evidence and was given a life term. His two co-defendants were executed.

SO. DIXON COMMUNITY CLUB MET WEDNESDAY

A most enjoyable meeting of the South Dixon Community club was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Laurent Henry. A good attendance was present to enjoy the delicious roast pork dinner served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Lautzenheiser. The members responded to roll call by giving their favorite salads, which sounded very appetizing. After the business meeting the remainder of the afternoon was spent in playing bingo. Prizes were awarded. At each meeting a gift is presented. Mrs. Carl Blum being the recipient. Mrs. Jesse Lautzenheiser will entertain at the next meeting, Wednesday, April 7, when the members are planning to celebrate the birthday of the club. All spent a very pleasant day with Mrs. Henry.

W.M.S. Hears Talk On Foreign Field By Sterlingite

Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. F. X. Newcomer, 224 East Third street.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Flora Seals and the hymn, "Oh Master Let Me Walk With Thee" was sung in unison. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and accepted and letters of appreciation from two members of the society were read by the corresponding secretary. Reports from the various departments were submitted by their secretaries.

In the absence of Mrs. Greig, the devotionals were given by Mrs. E. E. Wingert, taking "Truth" as her subject. Mrs. A. I. Hardy reviewed the chapter in the study book, "Valorous Ventures," which explained the work being done in Mutambara, Nyadiri and Gikuli. She gave a clear understanding of this work being done in Africa.

Mrs. C. A. Timmons of Sterling then gave an interesting description of the general executive meeting of foreign missions held at Muncie, Ind., last summer. Mrs. Timmons holds the responsible position of home base secretary of the northwestern branch. She spoke of the work of the Great Emancipator, Ambedkar, a man born an outcast but who is now principal of the government law school in Bombay, India, and who is working in the interests of the 60,000,000 outcasts of that country.

Especially interesting was Mrs. Timmons' description of the unique "Parade of Quilts" in which over one hundred missionaries home on furlough displayed quilts which had been made and presented to them by their auxiliaries which they represented in the foreign field.

These same missionaries also appeared in costumes native to the country in which they had served and each one sang a verse of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" in the native tongue of that country.

The next meeting of the society will be held in May with Mrs. J. N. Weiss.

HEART TROUBLE - BY "HELENE"

She Will Solve Your Love Once Each Week In This Column Appearing Saturdays

ADVICE
Gone is the flapper and her garish ways,
And the type has reverted to former days.
No rouge, just delicate tints so pale
And no high polish on her finger nail.
Remember your English, dress well but demure,
Withhold your kisses until you are sure.
Be sweet and subtle—calm and cool if you can,
Like the Northwest Mounted you will get your man.

—MARTHA.

Dear Helene: I wonder if you can help me. I am a young man holding down a fair position. I have been wanting to get married but the girl I want to marry seems to think that I don't make enough money to support us both.

Now I have friends who are married and they are getting less pay than I am receiving. They seem to get along and are happy. The young lady I want to marry is accustomed to living much better than we could afford to live if we were married. Eventually I will receive more money but it won't be for at least three or four years.

—M. R.

Dear M. R.: You cannot very well judge the young lady because she refuses to marry you on what she thinks is an inadequate salary. She may be mercenary and again she may only be sensible. If she marries you at the present time against her better judgment, she is apt not to be very co-operative in working out your mutual financial problems.

Contrary to the depictions of romanticists, a comfortable financial reserve is more conducive to an ideal state of wedded bliss than a shoulder to shoulder struggle against adversity and the problems attendant upon an inadequate income.

The idealists of course will take issue with the last statement, but I believe that at least in your case you will find it true.

So M. R., don't rush the young lady. You may be letting yourself in for a miserable existence.

—Helene.

Dear Helene: I have been going with a girl almost a year. I would like to marry her but I am not sure about her past. She says that she has never been in love before but I don't know whether to believe her or not.

How can I find out these things about her so my mind will be easy? I don't want to marry her until I am sure she tells me the truth.

DAILY HEALTH

By DR. IAGO GALDSTON
Smallpox and Vaccination

Even though you may never have been vaccinated against smallpox, the chances of your contracting the disease are slight indeed. On the other hand, should you contract the severe form of smallpox, the risk of dying therefrom is "one in five." Should you be among the survivors, you are quite likely to be disfigured for life.

When an unvaccinated person comes in contact with a case of smallpox, he may still secure protection against the disease by being vaccinated within 48 hours.

However, the average person is little likely to know "within 48 hours after exposure" of his contact with smallpox, for the disease is highly infectious in its very early stages, and expect during an epidemic of smallpox the case is not likely to be diagnosed until the third or fourth day after the characteristic rash of the disease has appeared.

Smallpox was one of the major diseases afflicting the past generations. Its effective control was rendered possible by the development of vaccination by Edward Jenner in 1796. The term "vaccination" is derived from the Latin word for cow, and the reason for this derivation lies in the fact that cowpox is employed in immunizing human beings against smallpox.

The disease is caused by a virus, and apparently when this virus "passes through the cow" it is so modified that, when applied to man, instead of causing a systematic and generalized condition, it only causes a localized reaction.

Various techniques are followed in vaccinating against smallpox. Authorities are agreed that almost any method that gets active virus into the skin below the outer layer will prove successful. As a site for vaccination the arm is preferred to the leg. The arm is less likely to become secondarily infected.

Vaccination during the first year of life is to be preferred, because at this time the risk of the development of the very rare nervous complications is reduced.

The length of the period of resistance to smallpox following successful vaccination varies with the individual and with the method of vaccination. In general it is believed that full immunity is conferred for a period of 10 years. Experience, however, has shown that should an individual who has been vaccinated contract the disease, it affects him in a less malignant form.

The subject of the lecture will be "Fainting and Drowning," and will be given by Dr. Z. T. Glatzer of the staff.

Asher and Helen Matyosian returned yesterday from their wedding trip and are living in room C-11 in the new employee home. Frank Pikel reported off duty last evening with a cold.

J. Henry Wilson, Murel and Mrs. Cory and Robert Perry left yesterday to join a party of friends with whom they will spend the week end in Peoria.

The sudden death of Patrick Hennessey, head detail supervisor, has dealt the hospital too stunning a blow to recover from lightly. We met "Pat" as he was known to everyone on the grounds shortly after we came to the hospital three years ago and formed a high regard for him that has grown steadily since that time. We used to run into him as he went about the grounds performing his many and exacting duties quietly but nevertheless efficiently. We used to marvel that he was never too busy and never too tired to greet all those that he met, both employees and patients, with all the warmth of the magnetic personality that was his. We understand from those with whom he was associated that his was the rare gift of understanding men and their personalities and of using that understanding to spur them on to greater deeds. To realize that "Pat" is gone is hard, but to realize that "Pat's" influence still lives in the hearts of those who knew him here at Dixon, is perhaps some consolation to the sorrowing loved ones he has left behind.

Dr. Harry Marselius, assistant managing officer, is on the sick list.

The recreation department presented a dramatic play at the amusement hall last evening in lieu of the usual band concert. Special music, scenic and lighting effects were used all of which contributed to the success of the performance. The usual large crowd of patients was in attendance and greatly enjoyed the production.

Ben Ghoslin has returned to duty at the dairy barn from his recent vacation.

Hint Land-Buying Proposal Restored Farm Tenancy Plan

Washington, April 3—(AP)—The administration proposed today the use of public works money in controlling prices as its latest answer to possible dangers in business recovery.

Fiscal experts explained the government might cut the hazard of too-rapid upswing of prices in the durable goods industries by reducing its purchase of such goods as steel and copper.

Instead, the money would be spent on projects intended to increase the demand for consumers' goods.

President Roosevelt's declaration of this new policy followed a series of actions by high officials against the potential perils of a business boom.

Treasury officials previously had been studying the inflow of foreign money into the United States, which Secretary Morgenthau called "a source of worry." The federal reserve board laid the groundwork for closer control of credit by requiring member banks to keep more capital on hand.

Chairman Eccles of the reserve board recently declared "inflationary price levels" would have disastrous effects, and called for budget-balancing. Secretary Roper asked business to take independent action to prevent unwarranted price rises.

President Roosevelt, saying that prices of durable goods have swept upward too swiftly, explained to a press conference yesterday that instead of spending for permanent projects requiring large amounts of steel and other durable goods, the government should dredge rivers and build earthen dams, spreading purchasing power for foodstuffs, clothing, and similar consumer articles.

Building Trades Strike Marked By Brick-Throwing

Wilmington, Del., April 3—(AP)—Brick-throwing, window-smashing and other sporadic disorder marked the start of a strike of the building trades called by the central labor union to enforce a settlement of a truck drivers' strike.

Eleventh hour efforts of Governor Richard C. McMullen and Mayor Walter C. Bacon, failed to prevent the strike from going into effect. Union leaders said they intended eventually to "pull out" every one of Wilmington's 3,500 organized workers.

The walkout began several hours after police arrested two union officials or warrants charging assault and battery and threats to do bodily harm. They were released on bail.

ITS A NEW DEAL ALRIGHT

Everything still seems to be going democratic. March was supposed to come in like a lion but was more like May and here our sweet and innocent and usually gentle and springlike month of April comes barging in with a roaring blizzard. Things are all mixed up.

BICYCLES ON SIDEWALKS

There is a city ordinance, we believe, which makes the riding of a bicycle on Dixon sidewalks illegal and provides a fine for so doing. This ordinance is being flagrantly violated this spring and the youngsters and even some adults whiz along the walks much to the apprehension and danger to pedestrians.

"IN THE SPRING....."

The Dixon postoffice should be warned that there may be a heavy and unprecedented flood of magazine mail coming in to this city in the near future. Dixon men are said to be getting what you might call "magazine minded," although some people might call it something else, and many an oldster with thinning and graying hair has a new spring in his step and a gleam in his eye that denotes a new interest in life. Maybe it's because spring is at hand but we should inform Dixon wives that they are going to get a lot of reading matter soon.

TIME TO CLEAN UP

Commissioner Joe Vaile makes a good suggestion to the effect that Dixonites should join in a campaign to clean up the city early this spring and that each resident should start now to brush up his own yard and any adjoining alley.

Such action will not only greatly improve the general appearance of the community but will avoid sewer congestion because the spring rains wash rubbish into drains and plug them. Spring breezes will soon be scattering dirt and leaves and papers left lying about and there is every reason from sightliness to sanitation for cleaning up our yards.

City trucks will start to work early this year carrying away rubbish and refuse of any kind which you may get piled up in your yard.

HOW ONE BOOK HELPED BRING ON WORLD WAR

A great many different kinds of men help to shape history—inventors, soldiers, statesmen, economists, and industrialists. But strangest and most far-reaching of all is the contribution occasionally made by the man who writes a book.

The publishing house of Little, Brown & Co., in Boston, is celebrating its centennial this year, and in its records there is the story of how one man—whom most Americans, by this time, have completely forgotten—helped to bring on the World War.

This man was Rear-Admiral Alfred Thayer Mahan, of the U. S. Navy. He died in 1914 just as the war was getting under way; but it was back in 1890, when he was a captain, that he brought out a book called "The Influence of Sea Power on History."

Now here was a book to which the ordinary reading public paid little attention. It was not a "popular" work; if the average reader passed it up in favor of the latest novel, he could hardly be blamed. But it had a tremendous influence.

Captain Mahan's thesis was that sea power was the all-important factor in a nation's rise to greatness. Control of the sea won wars, he asserted, even when the army got the credit. Napoleon's grand army, he remarked, never even saw the British fleet—but in the end it was the British fleet, and not the armies of the coalition, that caused Napoleon's downfall.

The influence of this book was world-wide. It was quickly translated into German, French, Russian, Spanish, Italian, and Japanese. In England, it was hailed as the bible of imperialism. The German kaiser ordered every officer in his navy to read it; the Japanese mikado did the same. All across the globe this book persuaded soldiers and statesmen that they could buy national security only at the price of big navies.

So the great, world-wide naval race that led up to 1914 was begun. There were other factors involved, of course; but it is hardly going too far to say that it was Mahan who touched it off. He provided the rationalization of this impulse toward bigger naval armaments; he it was who persuaded the nations of the earth that they needed more battleships.

In 1889 the United States had no battleships. In 1898 it had four afloat and eight more under construction. England's naval budget had gone up from $65,000,000 a year to $160,000,000. Germany's had doubled. And the great powers as a group—England, America, Russia, Germany, Austria, France, Italy, and Japan—which had spent a total of $190,000,000 on their navies in 1889, were spending $835,000,000 by 1913.

To say that Mahan caused the World War would be absurd. To say that he started the naval race which helped cause the war is no more than the truth.

So much can be accomplished by a genius who sits down to write a book!

VILLAGE LIFE

New York's famed Greenwich Village is in rather a high dudgeon because of the way it was described in a booklet put out as a WPA federal writers' project.

"Greenwich Village . . ." said the blurb, "is the nation's greatest rash of art, literature, and temperament in the raw—where the artist of artists meet to eat, drink and argue. On the checkered tablecloths of quaint retreats are plotted free verses, free lives and a free world."

Prominent citizens have signed a petition to the president protesting that this was not a true picture of the Village. It is possible, however, that these people are rather late in their effort to present the Village in its true light, or else they have an extensive campaign of public education before them.

For a great many pre- and post-O. Henry authors have succeeded in building up, in the minds of outlanders, a conception of Greenwich Village that coincides rather remarkably with that of the WPA scribes.

til a few years ago when he went to Dixon to reside with his son. Young Man Makes Good John Eisenberg, of Amboy, and a nephew of Glenn Wagner of this place, who is attending the Normal university, spent his Easter vacation with his mother, Mrs. Blanche Wagner Eisenberg. John left Monday for the south with a group of 24 selected singers from the university. They will be on a tour for the week during which time they will give performances each day and a concert each evening. John also has appeared over radio station WJBC with the singers and played with the university orchestra over the same station. The young man has been here several times and sung with the Franklin band. John is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wagner who for years lived in this community, where he often visited.

Scout Booster Campaign

Three years ago at this time of year, plans were being made to organize a Boy Scout troop in Franklin Grove, and by May Troop 110 was in action with about fifteen tenderfoot Scouts. Since then this troop has been in the front ranks of Scouting in Lee and Ogle counties.

To further extend the service of Scouting among the boys of this community, a "Booster Campaign" is being planned by A. A. Stocker, Blackhawk area executive, and Mr. Rowley, new Lee-Ogle field executive in conjunction with the local troop committee.

The next Lee county Court of Honor will be held at Franklin Grove April 9, at which time Scouts from this troop as well as all troops of the county will receive awards for advancement, and merit badge projects completed. This meeting will be of interest to all Scouts and their friends, and the people of the community have a most cordial invitation to attend.

On the morning of April 21, a breakfast will be served to 20 or more volunteer workers who will visit each household in the town to solicit their contributions for the good of Scouting.

During the past three years, 23 Scouts have been connected with troop No. 110. These Scouts have received a total of 53 merit badge awards. The present troop enrollment is 11 Scouts, and this is an average sized troop. Six of the charter members of the troop are among the advanced Scout.

These Boy Scouts have had many hikes, camping trips, excursions to football games, and other enjoyable activities, in which the principles of Scouting have been taught. The following is a roll of the troop:

Life Scouts—Robert Fish, John-Hatch, John Senger.

First Class—John Hain, Wellington Peterman.

Second Class—Wallace Heckman, Robert Holley, Howard Karper, Jr., William McDvitt.

Tenderfoot Scout—Junior Carr.

Tenderfoot candidates — Junior Baker, Grant Wilson, Bill Yocum.

The local troop committee consists of the following men: E. L. Fish, chairman; F. H. Senger, scoutmaster; H. F. Karper, assistant scoutmaster; W. D. Heckman, assistant scoutmaster; F. H. Hatch, committee man.

P-T. A. Meeting

The Franklin Grove P-T. A. meeting will be held at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, April 6. Be sure to come for the entertainment consists of two hilariously funny one-act plays, with the teachers as actors, under the direction of Mr. Fish.

This will be a unique performance also because these probably will be the last plays to be presented in our school auditorium. Some excellent musical selections will be presented by the high school girls' glee club. Don't fail to hear them.

"When the Wife's Away," as the title suggests, is a lively, amusing comedy. Mr. Edwards, as Walter Carlton, is having a short period of freedom while his keeper, or wife, Joan (portrayed by Miss Cray), leaves town. Walter and his best friend, Johnny Miller, known to us as Mr. Kinsley, plan a gay evening. Plans are upset, however, when Cleopatra walks in.

Inagine Miss Clifford's mistaking them for Marc Anthony and Julius Caesar! It's funny—until Walter's wife phones she's missed her train. What can they do with Cleo? How can her presence be explained? The situation is even more complicated when Johnny's fiancée, Marie (better known as Miss Lehman) appears, and then the fireworks start in a big way.

Dr. Killum (what an appropriate name) is portrayed by Mr. Clutz.

Can you imagine Mr. Fox as a struggling young artist? Perhaps, but try to imagine him playing nursemaid to a small infant. That is exactly what he does, as Dick Summers, in "A Bachelor's Baby." How can he explain the child's presence to the scolding "old maid" landlady, Miss Smithers (better known as Miss Colwell)? That should be trouble enough, but that is by no means all. What could be worse—his fiancée, Elizabeth Clarkson (Miss Lyford), is due to arrive at any moment. In fact, she does arrive and between her and Miss Smithers, poor Dick doesn't know what he is doing. The law comes in, represented by Russell Group. And finally the baby's mother appears! Next time you see Mrs. Clutz she probably will be speaking with a German accent. Come and see what happens to the unfortunate bachelor.

Don't miss these two plays. And the music of the glee club will be well worth while.

Features

New Year's day is generally accepted as the one day of turning over a new leaf. This one day of the year is turned over to new resolutions toward the general end of improving our everyday lives and habits. We smugly resolve to do better, and let it go at that until the next New Year's day comes around and we start all over.

It occurred to me, however, that we have chosen the wrong part of the year to start with a clean sheet. In the spring when every tree, grass, and flower comes to life, when new life springs up all about us, is the time that we should start a new life within ourselves. Especially at the Easter season with the inspiration of the Resurrection, the idea of starting anew, to better our own conditions, seems very evident to me.

If we make a practice of being observant, of meeting new ideas face on, if we consider every problem until a suitable solution is found, not shirking it, then are we bound to make a new life for ourselves. For every problem solved opens a new field of higher conquest.

Wood Working Revealed

One of the best equipped departments of the school is the manual arts department. Out of this department comes some of the most beautiful work, and perfection is practically demanded. Ask those boys who have built and rebuilt until satisfactory work was done. One project is required of each boy each year. Others may be taken up according to progress made, and time available. Some of the projects now being made are: Occasional tables, end tables, modern occasional end tables, desks, magazine racks, and other projects chosen by the boys themselves.

Only one major project every year is required of the student, but minor projects are worked on. The boys have been very busy this year. Woodworking is a thoroughly practical subject. It teaches by actual work with machinery and woods. The boys learn how to draw and make blue prints, use all of the most modern machinery, appreciate and recognize the different woods as well as estimate their value, and finish all of their furniture with appropriate stains and varnishes. Most furniture turned out bears the look of quality, for besides skill, real enjoyment has been put into every piece made.

Faculty to Present Plays

On Tuesday, April 6, the entire Franklin Grove school faculty will appear in a mammoth production for one performance only. Two one-act plays will be presented, and the public is invited to attend. At last the student body and parents and townspeople are to be allowed to see the dignified faculty cutting up.

The whole is directed by Earl Fish, and promises royal entertainment for an evening, with the teachers on the spot. The proceeds will be used to benefit school activities. We'll see you Tuesday night sure.

Home Economics Activities

Alice Jacobs, Dorothy Tholen, and Miss Crain prepared lunch for the board members after the school board meeting on Monday night last week.

The class is delving deep into the ever confusing mysteries of budgeting. This time they are budgeting their own actual cost to their parents. They must record every expense, and some of them are quite shocked at the tremendous sum their upkeep amounts to every year.

Music appreciation was studied on Friday last, and one class will be held every two weeks from now on. The group of brass instruments, including French horn, trumpet, trombone, bass trombone, cornet, tuba, and saxophone, and the percussion instruments including kettle, drum, snare drum, bass drum, cymbal, gong, tom tom, triangle, orchestra bell, chimes, xylophone, castanets, tambores, and celeste were explained and illustrated by recordings. Then two recordings, one of "The Secret" illustrating masters' use of violin, oboe, tuba and string base, and one of "Carnival of Venice," featuring the cornet, were played.

Message of Merit

The world is too busy to bother much about the fellow who is too lazy to make the most of the stuff that is in him.

Sports

At the present time school is being devoted to the study of books, than to sports. This is only in in-between seasons, however, and will presently pick up. Warm weather will bring regular track and baseball practices again. During this time of year news on sports seems slack. Maybe other news reporters think so too. When the weather permits, the boys are most eager to get out to practice track.

This week the G. A. A. girls hope to spend their recreation period outdoors. Probably a hike will be most enjoyable. During the month of April the G. A. A. plans to spend part of the spring days in playing baseball and hiking, then in May we wish to attempt track, and show improvement at the end of the season. I am sure we shall enjoy the track meet between our own teams. The physical development and training will be well worth while.

Through the Keyhole

"The newest nickname for a cash register is a Scotch piano and boy, how those Scotch merchants love to hear it play!" (Overheard in the confectionery) Ezzie Y.: Let's get F. G. H. S. specials.

Ralph H.: What are they? Ezzie Y.: Why, nut sundaes I suppose.

"Well, the weather will be growing warmer and the country roads clear", and conscientious mothers can begin to worry again whether their young are really going to a movie or whether they're parked on some inviting road."

Then, too, we hear of two industrious students who enjoy writing themes on "Why I Enjoy Wasting Time in the Study Hall."

How to Handle a Woman by Electricity

If she talks too long—Interrupter.

If she wants to be an angel—Transformer.

If she is picking your pockets—Detector.

If she will meet you halfway—Receiver.

If she goes up in the air—Condenser.

If she wants chocolates—Feeder.

If she is out of town—Telegrapher.

If she is too fat—Reducer.

If she gossips too much—Regulator.

If she becomes upset—Reverser.

LAYDEN PLANS VARIATION OF FOUR HORSEMEN

Will Form Work Horse And Pony Express Units For Team

South Bend, Ind., April 3—(AP)—Knute Rockne had his "Four Horsemen."

Elmer Layden, now the Notre Dame coach, was one of them. Layden plans for the 1937 season he announced today that he hopes to have a couple of equine backfields—a "work horse" unit and a "pony express" quartet.

When the spring practice gets under way Monday, Layden said today, he's going to pick out four heavier and slower "work horses" for the ball-carrying positions with the intention of using them in his starting lineups.

In addition he will select four "ponies" to be sent in when the opposition seems a bit worn.

For the latter group he has in mind a quartet, every one of whom in track clothes can tear off 100 yards in 10 seconds. The four are Andy Pupils, quarterback last season; Chuck O'Reilly, third string signal caller in 1936; Nevin McCormick, halfback; and Mario Tonelli, fullback. Tonelli, biggest of the "ponies," weighs 185 pounds, the others all less than 160.

Layden's "work horses" will be selected from a list that includes Emmett Crowe, Wilford Hofer, Danny Sullivan, Harold Gottacker, Jack Kovalick, Jack McCarthy and Ed Simonich.

Platak Monopolizes Singles, Doubles In Handball Meet Final

Chicago, April 3—(AP)—It was Joe Platak's party in the national A. U. handball championship finals today.

The sturdy Chicago postoffice clerk was in both the singles and doubles competition. He opposed Sam Atcheson of Memphis, Tenn., for the singles crown and was paired with Bob Weiler, also of Chicago, against the defending champions, Andy Berry and Joe Gordon of Los Angeles, for the doubles championship.

Platak was after a third straight national singles title. In his semi-final match last night he defeated Jack Sorenson of St. Louis, 21-7, 21-14, as Atcheson, a former champion, was whipping Jack Schwartz of Washington, D. C., 21-7, 14-21, 21-5.

TRAINING FOR FIGHT BEGINS FOR BRADDOCK

Louis May Locate His Camp Near Lake Geneva, Wis.

Chicago, April 3—(AP)—The heavyweight title fight situation—a jig-saw puzzle to fans and officials alike these many weeks—began clearing up with a rush of activity in the rival camps today.

Champion James J. Braddock, scheduled to meet Challenger Joe (Bomber) Louis at Comiskey park the night of June 22, packed his bags for a trip to a camp in the Wisconsin woods near Stone Lake, where he will spend five week conditioning and training.

His manager, Joe Gould, who assured Mayor Edward J. Kelly and everyone within hearing yesterday that "Braddock fights Louis here and all other offers definitely are off," considered approximately 50 bids for Chicago camp sites where the titleholders will devote the strenuous portion of his workouts, including sparring.

Julian Black, one of the Brown Bomber's managers, arrived in the city from Lake Geneva, Wis., where Joe may spend a few weeks swinging an ax and taking occasional hikes.

Gould will return to New York Monday to prepare for a federal court hearing April 12, when Braddock's counsel will be required to show cause why the champion should not meet Max Schmeling of Germany June 3 in New York under auspices of Madison Square Garden.

It was understood here that Braddock's defense will be based on a contention the Garden corporation did not desire to promote a Braddock-Schmeling bout because of boycotts against the contest.

MATZ ROLLS 297 BEST '37 BOWLING CONGRESS SCORE

Misses King Pin On The Twelfth Shot Leaving 3 Standing

New York, April 3—(AP)—By way of celebrating the return of the American Bowling Congress tourney to the west for next year, midwestern teams take over the tournament alleys today in a concerted effort to dislodge the eastern leaders.

Most of yesterday's action was centered about the convention hall, where Chicago edged out Cleveland in the battle of ballots for the 1938 tournament, 312 to 288.

Today two Chicago quintets head an imposing list of star teams and individuals. The strong Baby Ruth team and the Pabst Blue Ribbons, headed by Adolph "Swede" Carlson, a noted tournament knocker, are given the best chances of topping the 4,045 total established several weeks ago by the Pastime A. C. of Syracuse, N. Y.

A proposal placed before the convention by H. William Pollack of Buffalo, to double the entry fees was tabled.

On the alleys yesterday's principal development was a near-record 297 game rolled by Marshall Matz of Chicago. In his second game with the Wagoner Station team, with a chance to become the fifth man in A. B. C. history to score a perfect game, Matz missed the king pin with his 12th shot and left three pins standing.

Lewis Batters Challenger To Keep His Title

St. Louis, April 3—(AP)—Hard-punching light heavyweight champion John Henry Lewis rained leather into the face and body of Donald "Reds" Barry for four rounds before Referee Tommy Sullivan stopped the non-title battle in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round fight last night.

For three rounds the Washington, D. C., ring veteran managed to dodge danger in the champion's flying fists, but in the fourth Lewis dropped him to the canvas with a succession of rights to the head. Barry was up at the count of nine, as the bell saved him. As the fifth round opened, the Phoenix Negro title holder again sent him down for two seconds and was pounding the battered Barry when the referee halted the scrap.

Lewis weighed in at 183 and Barry at 198.

SEVENTH ANNUAL COLLEGE TRACK MEET DRAWS 200

Naperville, Ill., April 3—(AP)—The seventh annual Illinois Intercollegiate conference indoor track and field meet, with an entry list of 200 athletes from 10 conference members, opened at North Central college's field house today.

A standout favorite for the team championship was North Central's well-balanced team, which has won indoor titles for the past four years. Jack Lindstrom, a consistent point winner in the high jump and hurdles, was lost to North Central with an injured ankle.

Augustana, Illinois State Normal, Illinois Wesleyan and Northern Teachers were conceded outside chances of scoring an upset team victory. Other schools participating were Bradley Tech, Knox, Wheaton, Elmhurst and Monmouth.

Lloyd Siebert of North Central was expected to star in the pole vault and low hurdles. In the vault last year he set a new mark of 13 feet, 5 1/2 inches and he took first in the low hurdles and second in the broad jump.

Hottest in pursuit of Nelson was Ralph Guldahl, comeback star from St. Louis, and Big Ed Dudley, home club pro and pride, who stuck in the running with 141 totals. One blow behind them came Harry Cooper of Chicago, pre-tournament favorite, and Wilf Cox, the garrulous sailor man from Washington, D. C.

Embraced among the 143 shooters with a fine chance of overhauling the leaders in the final dash were Tony Manero, national open champion; Ky Laffoon, Chicago's pitch and putt star, and Johnnie Revolta, former P. G. A. titleholder. Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N. J., and Jimmy Thomson, golf's longest hitter, had 144's.

Horton Smith, winner of two out of three Augusta Nationals, was nine big blows behind the fast flying Nelson.

GREENLEAF NOW FAVORITE FOR BILLIARD WIN

Caras, Mosconi, And Lauri Still Tied With Greenleaf

New York, April 3—(AP)—Although he's tied for the lead with three other players, Ralph Greenleaf, former 13-time titleholder, was re-installed today as the betting favorite in the world pocket billiard championships.

Although beaten previously by the lightly-regarded Onofrio Lauri of Brooklyn, Greenleaf's impressive performance last night in just missing a tournament best-game as he whipped Fay Gainer of Vineland, N. J., 125 to 37, sent him to the top of the list.

Deadlocked in the pace-setting position with the Chicago-New York cueist are the defending titleholder, Jimmy Caras of Wilmington, Del., Willie Mosconi of Philadelphia, and Lauri all with two victories in three tournament starts.

Caras Wins Easily

Caras made short work of former champion Benny Allen of Kansas City, 125-77, in 18 innings last night, while Mosconi trounced Charles Seaback of Boston, 125-79, in 21 innings. In another match, Marcel Camp of Detroit, registered a mild surprise by topping Joe Diehl of Rockford, Ill., 125-79.

Greenleaf stays on the sidelines today while Lauri and Diehl met in one afternoon match and Camp takes on Andy Ponzi of New York in another. On the night program, Erwin Rudolph, Cleveland, faces Irving Crane, Rochester, N. Y., and Allen engages Mosconi.

News of Interest to Community Farmers

ENOUGH OATS SEED CHEERS LEE FARMERS

Acreage In State Will Approach 4,000,000

Urbana, Ill., April 3.—While seed supplies of some legume crops are scarce this spring, there is welcome news for farmers in surveys showing fairly ample seed for the increased acreage of oats to be sown in Illinois, according to George H. Duncan, chief in crop production, college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

The need for early spring pastures to replace those weakened by last summer's drought is expected to push the state's 1937 oats acreage about 4,000,000 acres, half a million more than in 1936, he said.

"Since seed supplies of oats are relatively plentiful and comparatively low in price, farmers will profit by making an extra search for improved varieties adapted to their localities. Results of the survey which has just been completed by the college are now available to assist farmers in their search."

Varieties which have done best in tests in northern Illinois include Albion (Iowa 103), Gopher and Iowa. The recent survey to locate seed supplies indicates that seed of Albion oats is available in Bureau, DeKalb, Douglas, Ford, Henderson, Marshall-Putnam and McLean counties. Names of farmers who have seed of this variety for sale may be obtained by writing the farm adviser in the counties mentioned or by writing the college of agriculture at Urbana.

Supplies of Gopher oats which are also adapted to central Illinois, are available in Coles, Douglas, Ford, Henry, Macoupin, Marshall-Putnam, McLean, Rock Island, Sangamon and Tazewell counties. Iowa oats may be found in Bureau, Coles, DeKalb, Ford, Iroquois, Marshall-Putnam, McLean, Rock Island and Tazewell counties.

Columbia and Burt oats are adapted to both central and southern sections of the state. Supplies of Burt may be obtained in Macoupin, Madison, Randolph and Tazewell counties.

Columbia oats are available in Cass, Champaign, Clark, DeKalb, Ford, Henderson, Henry, Iroquois, Jasper, LaSalle, Logan, Monroe, Sangamon and Tazewell counties.

BULL'S PEDIGREE LOOKS DECEIVE BUYERS OFTEN

Dairymen who pick a bull only by his pedigree and appearance pick a good bull only one time out of three, but those who use proved sire records as a basis for selecting herd sires choose a good bull three times out of four, says Dr. J. P. Kendrick of the United States Bureau of Dairy Industry. These conclusions are based upon numerous records of breeding activities in dairy herd-improvement associations.

An example of a dairyman who depended only on pedigree and looks is cited by Dr. Kendrick. In 1925 the cows in his herd were averaging 320 pounds of butterfat a year. A new bull was purchased. Four years later the average herd production had been boosted to 354 pounds of fat for each cow. Another sire was added to the herd, chosen by the same method as the first. At the end of another 4 years the average herd production had dropped to 316 pounds. A third bull has not boosted the production average. Without proved sire records as a guide this dairyman picked only one good bull out of three.

New York Village Trims Postoffice For Dedication

Leroy, N. Y., April 3.—(AP)—"Face lifting" operations will be performed on this village's new $97,000 postoffice before it is formally dedicated.

Dedication ceremonies, were postponed from today at the behest of E. L. Woodward, Leroy sportsman who donated the site and $40,000, so the building could be made of stone instead of brick. "He didn't like the looks of the building when it was finished," said Postmaster John Gleason.

In Washington, Edward Mayl, federal treasury liaison officer, said Woodward would put up money for a gable roof, a cupola and a parapet on the building.

URGETAXPAYERS TO ATTEND TOWN MEETINGS APR. 6

A state-wide effort to secure attendance of farmer taxpayers at coming town meetings on April 6 was announced today by the Lee county farm bureau following receipt of a letter from the Illinois Agricultural association.

The letter, written by John C. Watson, director of taxation for the IAA, calls attention to the importance of the town meetings for the following reasons:

1. All town clerks, township assessors, and about one-half of all township supervisors and assistant supervisors are to be elected.
2. The financial report of each township supervisor, ex-officio treasurer of all moneys for town charges except for roads and bridges and for a township library, is required to be posted at the place of holding the annual town meeting two days before the town meeting is held.
3. A town meeting for the transaction of miscellaneous business of the township, including the levies of taxes for ordinary township purposes and also for relief purposes, is required to be held at two o'clock in the afternoon of election day, at the polling place, or if there is more than one polling place, at a polling place specified in the election notices.

"Please note that tax levies for ordinary township purposes are not limited by law," Mr. Watson said. "These levies are wholly decided by voters at the town meeting."

"Any relief levy is limited to an amount which will require a tax rate of not more than 30 cents on each hundred dollars of total assessed valuations of property. In every township where, due to insufficiency of the maximum township relief levy, state funds are required, the relief levy should be made for an amount which will require the full 30 cent relief tax rate, thus qualifying the township to receive allocations of state relief funds. Any township which can meet all reasonable needs for relief with less than a 30 cent tax rate should not levy more than the necessary amount. Only about one-half of the townships levied the full 30 cent tax rate in the special town meetings held last summer. There is reason to believe that some of these could have met all legitimate needs with a tax rate of less than 30 cents.

"We believe that the town meetings this year and the township elections to be held April 6 are of such importance as to warrant a systematic attempt by every county farm bureau to secure a good attendance of taxpayers thereat."

HOLSTEIN HERD IS FINE THREE GENERATIONS

Classified Twice Previously at U. of Washington

When Prof. J. C. Knott of Washington State college inspected and classified the purebred herd owned by the University of Idaho last November he classified 23 animals rating one "excellent," five "very good," nine "good plus" and eight "good." This herd has been classified twice previously and the recent classification completed the first three generation group of excellent cows ever reported. The latest excellent animal in his herd is Idaho Perfection Delight 145488. Her dam, Idaho Hello Iris 1219161, and her granddam, Idaho Piebe Jessica, 977662, had both been given "excellent" ratings in previous classifications of the university herd.

Idaho Perfection Delight is a daughter of Sir Adua Perfection, himself classified excellent and sire of five classified daughters including one, "excellent," two "very good," and two "good plus." She has a record of 16,170 pounds of milk and 486.5 pounds of fat in 365 days at 2 years, 7 months of age and milked three times daily during the year.

Her dam, Idaho Hello Iris, is a daughter of Hazelwood Hello Butter King, sire of eleven classified daughters including two "excellent," four "very good," two "good plus," two "good" and one "fair" and she has a record of 25,657 pounds of milk and 758.3 pounds of fat in 365 days as a junior four-year-old.

Idaho Piebe Jessica, the grandmother in this three-generation group of excellent cows is a daughter of King Piebe Pontiac Segis, whose fifteen classified offspring include three "excellent," one "very good," six "good plus," four "good" and one "fair." She has three advanced registry records, the best as a senior four-year-old when she produced 28,313 pounds of milk and 921.2 pounds of fat in a year.

Herd classification is based on individual type or body conformation and is the newest breed improvement program established by the Holstein-Friesian of America. It was started in 1929 and at the Handsome awards are provided for county, state and national winners as explained in rules to be had of county agents.

STATE FARMERS INSURING THEIR CARS AT COST

Agricultural Mutual Company Observes Tenth Birthday

For ten years farm bureau members in Illinois have enjoyed the lowest possible rates for automobile insurance through the efficiency of their own co-operative company, Illinois Agricultural Mutual Insurance company, the Illinois Agricultural association reports.

Since the company was started in 1927, nearly 71,000 claims have been adjusted. A. E. Richardson, manager, said. If these vehicles could be collected and then distributed along a highway at 30-foot intervals they would extend across the state from Beloit to Cairo, he pointed out.

At the present time about 54,000 autos owned by farm bureau members or their families are insured in the company. This number, when compared to 6,423, the number of policies in force at the end of 1927, reveals the rapid growth of mutual auto insurance in the state.

Picturing the cars insured by his company, Richardson said: "If all the cars on which we have policies were placed on U. S. route 66, one to each 30 feet, they would extend from Chicago to St. Louis. And if they were driven in the same position, there would be about 15 feet of space from the front bumper of one to the rear bumper of the one ahead. At the rate of 40 miles per hour it would take a whole day for the parade to pass a given point."

He suggested that for safety, cars going 40 miles per hour should be driven 150 feet apart. The 15-foot spacing was given merely to illustrate the number of cars.

During the early years of the company and up until 1933, only 20 policyholders in each 100, reported claims. Since then the percentage of claims has steadily increased. In 1934, 22.2 per cent of the policyholders were involved in accidents. In 1935 the percentage increased to 28.1 and in 1936 it grew to the astounding figure of 34.1 per cent.

"Increased farm income which bred an inclination among our folks to go more places, is one of the major reasons for this large number of accidents," Manager Richardson pointed out. "Another reason is the fact that our company is now offering more forms of coverage which entitles policyholders to report claims not covered by the earlier policies."

Beginning in 1927 with but three employees, the company has grown until now it employs 48 persons. In contrast to the three desks originally used, the company now occupies more than 4,000 square feet of floor space.

Two employees who helped farm bureau members get lower cost auto insurance in 1927 and who still serve the company are A. E. Richardson and E. J. Ernst.

Total assets of the company as of March 1 amounted to $1,426,749.10 of which $686,188.27 was surplus. The investment of funds is handled by the finance committee of the IAA which is also the finance committee of the Illinois Agricultural Mutual Insurance company. To them goes the credit of bringing the company through the depression without a single loss of principle or interest.

At the end of 1936 a total of 4,678 animals had been classified by official inspectors of the association.

Planning

IN LAYING OUT your home grounds, make the front attractive to the world in general. The back belongs to you and your family. It should have a good appearance, but, most of all, should be comfortable.

IN PLACING trees or shrubs, try to visualize the appearance several years from now and allow sufficient room for development. Also be sure the full-grown tree will not shade some portion of your garden where you should have the full sun.

COLOR CAN BE utilized to create impressions of space or distance. The back of the house, blues and lavenders lend distance. A path seems longer if these are planted near the end.

SUCCESSFUL landscaping is always based upon two fundamentals: Simplicity and naturalness. There must also be harmony without monotony.

ALWAYS BUY seed of known quality for it is far more economical. Poor seeds take as much ground, effort and attention as does good seed and the little saving does not compensate for the unsatisfactory results.

DO NOT make your garden too symmetrical with only the loveliest in the foreground. Break this at irregular intervals with a little clump of the taller sorts.

VISIT the flower shows. You will be able to see many of the new annuals actually in flower.

IT ALWAYS ADDS interest to the garden work to try out at least a few of the new varieties or specialties offered in the seed catalogs each year.

IF THE PLANTS around your door are low the owners should be high or visa versa. This avoids competition and monotony.

FEBRUARY DAIRY HERD REPORT IS GIVEN TODAY

The association average for the month was 680 pounds of milk, 27.1 pounds of butterfat, with 225 cows on test from 25 herds. Thirty-five of the 255 cows on test were dry. During the month 4 cows were sold. 42 cows each produced over 40 pounds of fat. Two of 10 separators tested were losing over 5 per cent.

The five highest producing herds:

Leonard Anderson's herd of nine purebred Brown Swiss producing 963 pounds of milk with 39.9 pounds of fat each. No dry cows.

C. B. Keigwin, Jr.'s herd of nine purebred and grade Holsteins producing 1,044 pounds of milk with 39.8 pounds of fat each. One dry cow.

Henry Albright's herd of 12 purebred Holsteins producing 961 pounds of milk with 39.7 pounds of fat each. No dry cows.

J. D. Milliken's herd of 8 grade Guernseys producing 702 pounds of milk with 36.1 pounds of fat each. One dry cow.

Booth & Cunniff's herd of 7 purebred Brown Swiss producing 797 pounds of milk with 34.8 pounds of fat each. One dry cow. Cows producing over 30 pounds

HIGH VALUE IN ELECTRICITY ON THE FARM

Careful Area Development Needed To Bring Wide Use

The Illinois Rural Electrification Bulletin, in reviewing activities of 1936, points out that the University of Illinois extension service has been unusually active in educating farmers in the value of electricity. Starting early in the year with its 10 district meetings which represented 75 per cent of the counties of the state, the extension service reported much progress. These 10 district conferences had speakers from federal, state, and private agencies and were conducted to discuss means of getting electricity to the maximum number of farmers. Since these conferences, 51 additional meetings have been held in 29 counties of the state.

Much literature was made available by the extension service, including the pamphlets, "Rural Electrification" and "Farm Wiring." In addition to this, the department of agricultural engineering has carried on research in the field of electricity. It has kept a record of consumption of electrical energy in various operations on the Champaign county farms on the university's experimental line. In co-operation with entomologists, it has conducted studies on insect electrocutors and is also studying electrical dairy utensil sterilizers.

CANADA CHEESE IMPORTS AREN'T CONSIDERABLE

Though imports of cream and cheddar cheese into the United States from Canada increased considerably in 1936 over 1935, the bureau of agricultural economics points out that these imports are small compared to production and consumption of these products in this country.

Imports of cream from Canada were about 44,000 gallons last year, an insignificant quantity in view of concessions to Canada under the trade agreement which reduces the duty on 1,500,000 gallons of cream from 56.6 cents to 35 cents per gallon. Annual consumption of cream by urban consumers in this country is estimated at from 63,500,000 to 64,000,000 gallons.

With a relatively high cost of producing cream in Canada, that country finds it impossible to ship any appreciable quantity into this country at a profit. Sanitary regulations with respect to dairies that produce milk and cream for shipment to this country also handicap imports.

A total of 10,781,000 pounds of cheddar cheese came in from Canada last year, or about 10 times more than in 1935. These imports, however, amounted to only 2.2 per cent of the 494,000,000 pounds of cheddar cheese estimated as produced in this country in 1936—the largest output in history. Imports for the 1925-29 period averaged more than 8,000,000 pounds.

Though the increase in imports last year was largely brought about by the reduction in duty under the trade agreement, of from 7 cents a pound or 35 per cent ad valorem to 5 cents a pound or 25 per cent ad valorem, the gain in the estimated production of cheddar cheese in the United States was more than 20,000,000 pounds or more than twice the gain in Canadian imports in 1936 over 1935.

Rabbits

The following quotation from the annual report of the chief of the bureau of biological survey is continued from last week:

"Studies of the various factors that influence the quality of domestic rabbit fur, begun in 1932, were completed this year and a resume of the findings was presented to the annual convention of the American Rabbit and Cavy Breeders' association. Heredity, feed, age, and time of pelting all are found to have an influence on the quality of the fur.

"The pelts of 6-pound rabbits from 80 to 130 days of age showed unprime areas where the hair was in the process of shedding, and a high percentage of these skins was unfit for furriers' purposes. About 16 per cent of 416 white rabbit pelts graded as No. 1 furriers. Some of the best skins were produced in each month of the year, but the majority of the good skins were produced in the colder months. These findings further substantiated the bureau's various recommendations that rabbit producers should concentrate their efforts on the economical production of rabbit meat, with the fur a secondary consideration, although every effort should be made to produce as fine a pelt as possible. Other recommendations for rabbit raisers have been issued during the year as mimeographed leaflets: Feed Cost of Producing Young Rabbits to Weaning Age (BS-21), Feed Requirements in Raising Weaned Rabbits to a Weight of 6 Pounds (BS-22), Feeding Schedule for Rabbits (BS-26), Average Weight of Rabbits at Weaning Age (BS-31), and Periodicals on Rabbits and Caves (BS-56)."

4-H CLUB GIRLS OFFERED CHANCE TO SHOW TALENTS

More opportunity to show their talents will be given to 4-H club girls enrolled in foods and home furnishings projects in Illinois during the coming year, announces Marie Daugherty, home adviser.

Realizing that girls enrolled in clothing projects have opportunity to take part in such activities as dress revue and complete outfit, state junior club specialists, college of agriculture, University of Illinois, are creating new and varied interests for the girls preferring foods and home furnishings work.

Dividing the foods preparation activities into four classes, that of quick breads, cookies, suppers and lunches and dinners, the specialists have designated that 16 counties having the largest enrollment drawn from the central area of the state may each send one girl to the state fair.

Visitors to the state fair will find girls from four of the counties showing correct methods of making one type of quick bread. The girls will perform in different booths at the same time, will make plain biscuits as well as one variation of their own choice and will be given a 30 minute time limit to complete their exhibition.

How to Make Cookies

Similarly, girls from four other counties will perform simultaneously for one-half hour to show methods of making either chocolate or oatmeal drop cookies; girls from the third group of four counties will go through the tasks of setting up the table service and meal for either a family supper party or a guest luncheon.

A fourth group of girls will be given 40 minutes in which to demonstrate their abilities in making a fruit dessert for dinner. The girls will not compete as demonstrators nor with counties sending demonstrations to the state fair, says Mrs. Daugherty. The primary purpose will be to show what is being accomplished in the foods project.

The same type of system will be used for room improvement. Sixteen counties with the largest enrollment may send one girl to the state fair where she will arrange room unit studies according to conditions which have been set up for her. The girls may explain their work and answer any questions which are asked of them.

Four counties in the state having the largest enrollment in foods projects will also have the honor of preparing food booths to go to the state fair. The booths will stress any phase of foods work being carried on in the counties.

Counties from the central area from which the 16 foods girls may be chosen are: Vermilion, Edgar, Clark, Jasper, Cumberland, Coles, Douglas, Champaign, McLean, DeWitt, Platt, Moultrie, Macon, Shelby, Effingham, Fayette, Christian, Tazewell, Logan, Menard, Sangamon, Mason, Cass, Morgan, Scott, Pike, Brown, Schuyler, McDonough, Hancock, Adams and Calhoun.

Interest receipts on American-held foreign dollar bonds dropped from $188,000,000 in 1935 to $175,000,000 in 1936.

FARM LABOR IS SHARING RISE IN U. S. INCOME

Pay Boosted Five To Twenty Per Cent Everywhere

By PAUL D. SHOEMAKER
Associated Press Farm Editor

Chicago, April 3.—(AP)—Farm labor is sharing in the farmer's increased income and has prospects of getting a bigger slice of the financial melon, a nation-wide survey discloses.

Pay of farm labor practically everywhere in the nation has been boosted from five to 20 per cent during the last year. The possibility of still higher prices for 1937 farm products carried a promise of further pay hikes.

The "hired man" is receiving more money today than at any time since 1931, and in some of the more productive areas, agricultural economists said, further increases may be forthcoming during the spring planting or harvest seasons.

Averages compiled by the United States department of agriculture showed Rhode Island has the highest average monthly pay, $41.75 with board and $67.25 without. The 1936 average was $34.50 and $59.25, respectively. The low average was reported from Georgia, $11.75 with board, up 75 cents over last year. California was second high with an average of $41 with board. In the corn belt states the average with board ranged from $20.75 in Nebraska, to $26 in Illinois. Specialized farm workers received higher pay, usually $10 to $15 a month more than ordinary help.

Practically all states, excepting Ohio, a few in New England and the South, reported the supply of farm labor in excess of the demand. Operators of small farms in Georgia, the Carolinas and Florida reported they have experienced difficulty in obtaining help. Owners of large farms, however, said they have all the help they need.

Generally the increases have been made voluntarily, but farmers realize that increased industrial employment usually makes breads on farm labor and apparently they are making bids to retain their workers.

Miss Livengood Abides By Edict

Champaign, Ill., April 3.—(AP)—The tempest in a teapot over eligibility of a co-ed to play on a University of Illinois golf team had boiled itself out today.

Miss Hilda Mae Livengood, Danville, Ill., women's state champion two years ago, said she would abide by Athletic Director Wendell (Weenie) Wilson's edict forbidding consideration of her for the freshman team this year and the varsity in the future.

The controversy started when the freshman coach, John Uley, invited Miss Livengood to try out for the team after she scored an 80 on the course used by the university teams. Wilson refused to permit her candidacy, explaining "There is an unwritten understanding that women can't compete in Big Ten intercollegiate athletics."

ROCHELLE NEWS

By Arthur T. Guest

Rochelle—Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon, April 1, at the Unger funeral home at 2:30 o'clock for William Scherhorn, 67, lifelong resident of Rochelle and vicinity, who died Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Blanche Hanson, in Maywood. Burial was made in Lawnridge cemetery.

Mr. Scherhorn had gone to Maywood Friday to spend Easter with his daughter, and died there following a stroke of paralysis.

Surviving are his children, Mrs. Hanson, of Maywood, Mrs. Helen Sassaman of Holcomb, Mrs. Allean Plasse of Barrington, Frank of Rochelle and Lawrence of Chicago; three sisters, Rose and Kate of Rochelle and Mrs. Alva Kramer of Chicago; a brother, Edward, of Oak Park. His wife preceded him in death several years ago.

Harold B. Yetter, former resident of Steward, died at the Billings Memorial hospital in Chicago Easter Sunday, March 28, 1937. Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock p. m. Wednesday from the Unger funeral home, Rev. Mr. Prince of Hebron officiating.

Mr. Yetter was born Feb. 23, 1892, at Steward, the son of George W. and Julia L. Yetter. On Dec. 18, 1915, he was united in marriage to Gertrude M. Smith. For the past seven years Mr. Yetter had resided in Hebron. Before that he was engaged in farming near Steward.

Surviving are his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Yetter; his wife Gertrude; three children, Dean, Virginia and Duane, at home; and a sister, Mrs. Miriam Straub of Des Moines.

J. T. Meek, executive secretary of the Illinois Federation of Retailers, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Rochelle Business and Professional Men's association April 8.

Mr. Meek will discuss various community problems and will undoubtedly stress the value of community promotion as the important factor in enlarging the trading area and bringing about a more desirable community spirit.

The meeting will take form of a dinner and will be held in the parlors of the Methodist church with the Philarraca class serving the banquet. Following the dinner, the business men will convene in the Public library where the regular general meeting of the association will be held and the address of Mr. Meek heard.

The Rochelle Rebekah lodge will be hostess for the district meeting of District No. 32 to be held at the Woodman hall on Tuesday, April 6.

The session will begin at 1 o'clock with a business meeting in the afternoon and speeches from the state officers, who are expected to be present. Mrs. Frederick Harris is in charge of the meeting.

A 6 o'clock dinner will be served in the Methodist church.

The Lindenwood lodge will put on the work and bring candidates for the evening session.

A committee will serve refreshments after the ceremony in the evening.

The people of the Lindenwood community are invited to a silver wedding anniversary celebration in honor of the Rev. and Mrs. George Richter Friday evening, April 2, at 8 o'clock at the Lindenwood Union church.

A program has been arranged for the evening's entertainment and refreshments will be served. Earl Paul Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walker, will entertain 10 little guests at a party Saturday afternoon, celebrating his third birthday. The guests will include James Orner, James Hayles, Robert Spratz, Donna Jean Mutton, Donna Joyce Taylor, Debbie Ann Heltness, Glennie Dee Moughn, and Joanne Nutt, and their mothers. A decorated cake topped with three candles will be a feature of the birthday luncheon.

Miss Agnes Hickey of DeKalb, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Hickey and sister of Fred Hickey of Rochelle, will be married at a 9 o'clock nuptial mass in St. Mary's church in DeKalb Saturday morning to William Mihm, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mihm of Rochelle.

Miss Hickey will wear a white lace gown with train and veil. Her bridesmaid will be Miss Ruth Dugan of Waterman and Miss Helen Hickey of Aurora, her sister.

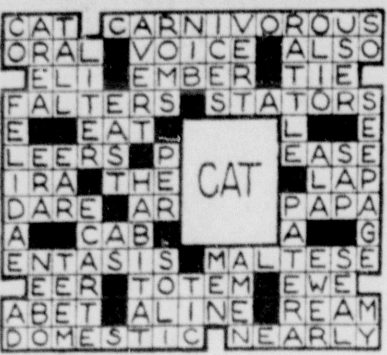

Michael Mihm, brother of the bridegroom, and Junior Sullivan, nephew, will attend William Mih town day," will excel all previous attendance records. Everyone is invited to attend as admission is free.

Every booth there is worth close study by the persons or couples who intend to build or buy soon; even old-timers at the game of home-owning and furnishing can well heed some of the latest time-saving innovations as presented by local merchants. Attendants at the booths were kept busy all evening explaining the outstanding features of their product as well as its more complicated intricacies.

What is a home without food?
Following this theme, the L. C. Mercantile company supplied the throngs with delicious steaming coffee. The adults were as eager to have this as the kiddies were to gain more candy pellets from the Home Lumber & Coal company's "mule."

Sighs of appreciation are heard at the Wilbur Lumber company's booth when the ladies sight the built-in Morgan kitchen cabinet.
This three-section cabinet is yellow trimmed with green and is 10x2x8 feet. The Wilbur booth has a demonstration showing the fire-resistant qualities of rock wool and asbestos shingles. An acetylene torch is used to prove this fire-proof quality.

The Conser Supply Co. presents the modern kitchen as equipped with Norge products. A novel demonstration shows the complete mechanism of the Norge refrigerator.
The simplicity of the machinery is emphasized. The ability of the Norge to freeze in open air without an insulated cabinet is cleverly illustrated. Matched units of Norge products were shown, showing that color harmony may now be obtained in the kitchen as well as in other rooms of the home.

The Hall Radio booth attracted many who were eager to "see their voice" and the latest models of the Philco radio which features an easy station selector that has the name of your favorite stations clearly written on the dial. All that is necessary is to "plug in" on the desired station and let the selector do the rest.

The D. B. Raymond & Son Coal
Co. displays the very latest available model of the Iron Fireman stoker.
One of the finest innovations in the stoker field is noted when the attendant explains the new air control of the Iron Fireman that gives maximum fuel consumption.

The Home Lumber & Coal Co.
displays small asbestos bird houses in profusion. The birds would certainly appreciate one on a stormy blustery day like today.

Armstrong linoleum is presented by the Frank Kreim Furniture Co.
Newest colors and patterns are illustrated.

The Hunter Co. has a motion picture and talkie that explains in detail the merits of the Fairbanks-Morse stoker. This attracted interest all during the evening. The stoker on display is the famous K-20 model.

The I. N. U. presents a G-E electric dishwasher that makes the faces of harnessed husbands green with envy as they see how easily the dish-washing problem could be dispensed. Also illustrated is the Magic Chef gas range and the G-E refrigerator that features oil cooling.

Along the row a little is the Cahill Electric Shop booth that displays Westinghouse electric products. The Frigidaire refrigerators is illustrated and the instant cube release is spot-lighted in the booth.
Hoover vacuum cleaners, Westinghouse electric stoves, mixers, roast-ers and grills round out the display.

The Barriage booth presents displays of Delco Auto Radios, demonstrations of the Dexter Washer, and the Crosley Shelvatore refrigerator.

The Ware hardware store stars Kelvinator and Maytag in their booth. Latest models of refrigerators, gas stoves, washing machines and ironers are explained and demonstrated.

The Ace Store headlines Ace paint for the coming spring clean-up and Rock Island ranges and Perfect paint-out drive. Also shown are the tion oil stoves.

Three National Safety Council publications prepared under the automotive industry's grant, "Organized Safety by Organized Parents and Teachers," "Safety in the Small Community," and "Engineering for Traffic Safety," have been given full circulation in their various fields.

SUCKERS

First Inhabitants of Illinois Were Long-Headed

Chicago, April 3—(AP)—Long-headed men and women displaying Eskimoid characteristics inhabited Illinois as long as 2,000 years ago, according to a book published today by the University of Chicago Press.

"Rediscovering Illinois" written by Dr. Fay-Cooper Cole, chairman of the department of anthropology of the university, and Dr. Thorne Deuel, research assistant, says the early-day man who lived in the state at about the time of Christ, or even earlier, was related closely to the older types of man found in the southwestern United States.

The exact time of burial of these "black sand" men, found near Liverpool, Ill., is expected to be determined soon by "tree-ring" dating methods, the authors said.

Five cultures of true Indians later than the "black sand" men have been identified, the book revealed, removing the story of the mound builders from the realm of mystery, or "vanished race," by demonstrating that Indians built the mounds.

The authors said many mounds in Fulton county gave valuable information.
The book said the five vultures above the "black sand" men furnished considerable evidence of the type of early inhabitants. Finds graduated from coarse stone implements and rudimentary pottery to bows and arrows, bone fish hooks and stone knives.

A hint of cannibalism was given by the repeated discovery of human bones in refuse pits, in association with animal bones.

Epidemics also were indicated, by the book said, by discovery of mass burials.

TRAILER ADVENTURE

By Nard Jones

© 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MARTHA BRITTAIN and BET-TY HAYNES begin a trip on the west coast to demonstrate the new Airspeed trailer. They pick up GERRY NEAL, handsome young high-biker. Neal tells them he is to meet a friend, JACK SPEED-DIXON, at the Long Beach auto camp. But at Long Beach, Neal disappears from the trailer and Speedy drives away with Betty.

Frantic, Martha calls police.
Then she gets a wire, hours later, signed "Betty" and advising that Betty will meet her in San Francisco at a designated hotel. Evening, Martha leaves her trailer and tries to trace Betty en route. Returning to her trailer the second day, she is startled to meet Neal. He tells her that "this thing may be bigger" than she imagines.

She agrees to accompany Neal back to San Francisco to find Betty. Martha is troubled because she does not know whether to trust Neal. Yet she likes him more than she cares to admit.
They were San Francisco and find that neither Betty nor Speedy are registered at the designated hotel. Neal persuades Martha to accept the fact that they have been driven along the coast, then stop to swim at a secluded part of the beach. Martha loves Neal, but the breakers and in that moment she knows that she is caught, facing the jagged rocks of the cove.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER X

SHE seemed to be plunging in a sweeping arc—then suddenly she felt something clutching her arm. Her head broke the surface, sank again, with that firm hand still gripping her. Fantastically she wondered if this could be the last mad delusion of the drowning. And then, miraculously, she felt the sand beneath her feet.

"Steady . . . hold steady . . ."
It was Neal's voice. It was Neal who gripped her fiercely with one hand, his other fondling them off from the wall of rock.
With all her remaining strength Martha dug her bare feet into the sand as a wave receded. She tried her best to make that last struggle which would bring her to a safe depth. Then everything went black.

When she opened her eyes she saw Gerry Neal's anxious face between her and the bright blue bowl of sky. Under her body the sand felt deliciously warm and soft.

"You're all right now," Neal was saying. "You fainted just as we were getting in."

She started to raise her head,
but he remonstrated. "Not yet.
Take it easy. I—I'm frightfully sorry, Martha."

"It wasn't your fault. An inland girl should know better than to go plunging into a surf like that."

"Ordinarily it would have been all right. But close to those rocks there's a dangerous undercurrent.
I've sat here by the hour and watched what it does to pieces of driftwood. That's how I knew

STATE AID FOR HIGH SCHOOLS NEAR PASSAGE

Horner's Position Depends On State Budget's Health

Springfield, Ill., April 3—(AP)—With no promise of administration approval, the $798,872 bill for emergency state aid to impoverished high schools is in position for House passage.

Speaker Louie E. Lewis, a former teacher whose home high school at Christopher is reputedly in financial trouble, said the bill is undergoing revival. After being pointedly ignored for several weeks, it was dusted off and given second reading Wednesday.

The appropriation would be distributed among high school districts, mostly in southern Illinois, where lowered property assessments have depleted cash with which to pay teachers' salaries and meet other bills.

School lobbyists, apparently thwarted in their campaign to get state aid increased from $13,000,000 to $29,000,000 a year, said Governor Horner has withdrawn his opposition to the high school appropriation. The administration's spokesman said, however, that it depends entirely on whether any money is left after the budget is balanced.

The bills demanding more state aid are backed by the educational organizations that, to keep their own prestige, insisted that all administrative power be taken from the proposed state school board.

Senate passage of the state school board bill may be attempted next week, depending on how much time is consumed in debating the insurance code and women's eight-hour bills in the upper house Wednesday and Thursday.

Senator Harry C. Stuttle of Litchfield, education chairman, said he hoped to get the bill out of his hands as soon as possible. He has amended it to limit the proposed non-partisan state board to advisory functions.

The $29,000,000 state distributive fund bill is still tied up in the appropriations committee of the Senate, with small chance for action because of the budget balancing troubles. It would extend state aid to high schools on a permanent basis.

An omnibus bill revising the administrative features of the school law also is ready for House passage. Among other changes, it would authorize the superintendent of public instruction to determine standards for the recognition of grade schools and provide for a referendum on changes in district boundaries.

Mount Morris

By Pauline Yoe

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the Christian church for Mrs. Arthur Nally, former prominent Mount Morris lady who passed away Tuesday in Rockford following a long period of illness.

The final rites were in charge of Rev. N. A. Bolinger and burial was made in Oakwood cemetery.

Margaret Elizabeth Spielman, daughter of Mary E. and Melvin P. Spielman, was born Aug. 14, 1870, in Mount Morris township and departed this life March 30, 1937, in Rockford hospital, at the age of 66 years, 7 months and 16 days.

She grew to womanhood in the vicinity of Mount Morris and was united in marriage to Henry H. Knodle on Dec. 10, 1891. To this union were born three children, Ethel, Hubert and Harold, all of Mount Morris. Mr. Knodle preceded her in death on Dec. 26, 1904.

In October, 1924, she was united in marriage to Arthur W. Nalley of Rockford at which place they made their home.

Besides her husband, daughter and sons, there remain to mourn her passing a step-daughter, Mrs. Gladys A. McGafferty, and stepson, Harold N. Nalley, both of Rockford; four sisters, Mrs. Laura Lizer, Mrs. Nettie Sprecher, Mrs. Dora Cronk and Mrs. Lulu Sprecher, all of Mount Morris; two brothers, Frank Spielman of Chicago and Charles Spielman of Rockford; four grandchildren and numerous other relatives and friends.

She became a member of Mount Morris Christian church at an early age and lived a life of Christian service until her death.

Wednesday, 2:30 p. m.—The W. F. M. S. will meet at the home of Mrs. Fayette Rose with Mrs. Elmer Clapper, hostess. Mrs. Thomas King in charge of devotion, and Mrs. Clyde Walkup, leader.

Two exceptionally high grade musical attractions have been booked for appearance at the Methodist church during the coming week, the first being the Mendelssohn Treble Clef club of Sterling, which will give a concert Sunday evening at 7:30, and the other the widely known Illinois Wesleyan University A Capella choir, which follows with a concert on Tuesday evening at 7:30.

We appreciate the splendid response we had in attendance at the Easter services last Sunday. We trust this same interest will prevail during the weeks to come.

The young people of the Lanark Brethren church will present the dramatic cantata, "Easter Vision," at the church Sunday at 7:00 p. m.

The cantata is very unique and effective presentation of the Easter message although it is appropriate in any season.

A reader and two choirs will be used. The reader, Miss Esther Boyd, has memorized over one thousand lines for this performance. In addition to the two choirs there will be music by a girls' sextette.

Many compliments were paid the young people on a previous presentation. The high quality of this story in song assures an effective program which will draw many people.

The Sterling Treble Clef singers need no introduction to Mount Morris music lovers. Under the direction of Mrs. G. A. Phelps, they have appeared here on several previous occasions and their concerts have been received enthusiastically.

The organization is comprised of 16 singers in addition to Mrs. Phelps, director; Miss Winnifred Cary, organist; and Miss Margaretta Kerr, pianist.

The Wesleyan A Capella choir, directed by Arthur Westbrook, is recognized as one of the leading college choirs of the country, as may be judged by the following excerpt from Music News, "... demonstrated the flexibility and musical competence of an organization which is highly selective in personnel and purpose. Details of shading and melodic contour were well attended."

There will be no admission charge to either of these excellent concerts, although a free will offering will be taken to help meet expenses, and the public is extended a cordial invitation to attend.

Coach M. C. Small's Methodists won the championship of the Mount Morris Sunday school basketball league Wednesday evening by virtue of their defeat of the Brethren team, 24-23, in a hard fought game.

In the preliminaries Monday evening the Methodists defeated Coach Peterson's Christians, 27-12, while the Brethren advanced to the finals by trouncing Dale Lizer's Silver Creekers, 32-23. In addition to Lizer, Silver Creek was represented by R. Mendenhall, L. Rozk, R. Marshall and Harlan Blake.

IN MOVIES

Dixon Youth Given Contract by Big Producers

Ronald "Dutch" Reagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Reagan of this city, is to be given a trial in the talking movies at the Warner Bros. studios in Hollywood in June, according to a message received by his parents here last evening. "Dutch," who is the ace sports announcer at radio station WHO at Des Moines, Iowa, returned Thursday from Catalina island where he had accompanied the Chicago Cubs on their annual training session at Avalon.

Friday noon he was appraised by long distance telephone from Hollywood that his screen test and audition, taken during his western sojourn, had been successful and the Warner Brothers producers were sending a contract by air mail, requesting his signature. The contract arrived, providing for a six months contract to become effective June 1, with an option of a seven year extension. "Dutch" signed the contract and returned it to the producing firm immediately. He telephoned his parents the last evening.

"Dutch," during his high school days in Dixon served as life guard at the Lowell park beach, has enjoyed a very successful and deserving career since graduating from Eureka college. He became associated with radio station WOC at Davenport, Iowa, where he remained but a few months, when through his ability as a sports announcer and authority, took him to station WHO at Des Moines, where he has been located for the past two years.

His hosts of Dixon friends will join his radio fans in wishing him every success as a screen performer in the new field to which his services have been summoned.
